About Louisville, KY:
Louisville, Gateway to the South, has a rich history beginning with the city’s discovery by General George Rogers Clark. The city played an important role in the Civil War, and during the Gilded Age, it became the Bourbon Capital of the World. During World War I, the city hosted 47,500 troops at Camp Zachary Taylor. During World War II, the U.S. Naval Ordnance Plant contributed to the war effort, making rounds for big guns during the late war. Named after King Louis XVI of France, Louisville was founded in 1778 by George Rogers Clark, making it one of the oldest cities west of the Appalachians. Today, the city is known as the home of boxer Muhammad Ali, the Kentucky Derby, Kentucky Fried Chicken, the University of Louisville and its Cardinals, Louisville Slugger baseball bats, and three of Kentucky’s six Fortune 500 companies.

About the Conference:
The Annual Scientific Meeting of the Ohio Valley Society of Plastic Surgeons (OVSPS) serves a crucial role for students, residents, fellows and attending surgeons to highlight new technologies, new treatment modalities and new techniques in plastic and reconstructive surgery. In addition, the program serves to educate these individuals on patient safety topics and research occurring within the region thereby expanding the breadth and scope of plastic surgeons. Specifically, the meeting will include didactic and panel presentations to generate discussion involving new concepts and controversies in plastic surgery. The presentations are designed for audience interaction in an open forum allowing ample time for questions and answers.

A resident forum for research presentations is highlighted. This serves an important role in providing the opportunity for the resident/fellow to present his/her work in an open forum; an opportunity that may not be available at the national level.

Intended Audience:
The target audience of this meeting includes plastic surgeons in practice and in training, both private and academic, in the five-state Ohio Valley region and beyond.

Learning Objectives:
Upon completion of this course the participants should be able to:
- Describe and understand techniques in Robotic DIEP flap harvest
- Discuss the top 45 plastic surgery research topics occurring within the Ohio Valley region
- Explain hand transplantation comparison of previous and future treatments for successful outcome
- Demonstrate the use of Ultrasound, CT scan, and MRI for monitoring of breast implant condition
- Describe techniques in ear reconstruction
- Express how to manage a patient with symptoms of breast implant illness
- Discuss techniques in gender reassignment surgery in the adult and adolescent
- Recognize social media as an important tool for plastic surgery practice management
- Realize that the practice of plastic surgery is complex; therefore, pearls of wisdom from a successful practitioner will be shared

ABMS Competencies:
This activity will address the following ACGME/ABMS Competencies: Medical Knowledge, Patient Care, Systems Based Practice, Practice Based Learning, and Professionalism

Accreditation Statement:
This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint providership of the University of Cincinnati and the Ohio Valley Society of Plastic Surgeons.
